*Learning, Teaching and Training Activities

Cultural visits around Budapest (including exhibitions, gallery visits, and heritage routes) enriched the program and highlighted the importance of connecting technology to cultural heritage.

The LTTA in Budapest strengthened international cooperation and inspired new design ideas that will propel MUSED forward in the future.

The team worked with the MUSED toolkit, developing ideas for digital museum experiences and creating new avenues for educational collaboration through eTwinning.

During the LTТА activities of the MUSED project held in Budapest, participants explored innovative approaches to digital cultural education through sessions organized at the Hungarian National Museum and the Széchenyi National Library.
